

Can you please stock Dandy Blend?

Dandy Blend is a delicious healthy alternative to coffee, made with only five ingredients; extracts of barley, rye, chicory root, dandelion root, and sugar beet. Your customers will be delighted to see that Dandy Blend has reached your shelves, and will continue to come back for more every time they start to run low.

The Dandelion root makes for a great liver/body detox with being only 5 calories per serving. Dandy Blend is a non-GMO, gluten free and Kosher product that is great for everyone, containing lots of great vitamins and minerals.

Dandy Blend made its debut in 1994 and has continued to be a family owned company ever since. We strive for everyone to have an outstanding experience starting with our customer service and ending with every last cup made to perfection.
